

ONTRACK

STUDENT ACTIVITY

Grow a READING TREE

Reading independently – sometimes called "self-guide" or "self-selected" reading – is an important goal for your child to achieve.

You can help by recording your child's reading accomplishments with a fun family activity: Creating a reading tree.

Directions:

Each time anyone in the family finishes a book, have your child write the name of the book on a leaf of the tree illustrated above. You and your child can then talk together about what was read (e.g., give a basic summary of the plot or explain the main characters).

More activities online at LearnMoreIndiana.org/activities

